AEROPRESS

HYBRID BREWING

A brewing device invented by the creator of the Aerobie Flying Ring, the Aeropress forces coffee through a metal or paper filter. The pressure applied aids in extraction speed and enhances the flavour profile of the coffee.

BREW CHARACTERISTICS

Rounded body, balanced and smooth expression of all flavours

SYPHON

FULL IMMERSION BREWING

The syphon, also known as the vacpot, is the most visually captivating of all brew methods. This involves a vacuum brewer comprising of two glass chambers, a cloth filter and a heat source.

BREW CHARACTERISTICS

Pronounced body, heightened acidity and complexity

WAVE DRIPPER

POUROVER BREWING

The flat-bottomed three-holed brewer features a very different brewing approach from the traditional cone- or wedge-shaped drippers with the ideal material and design, the Wave promotes a more even extraction and maintains stable brew temperatures, creating the optimal brew environment for the perfect filter coffee.

BREW CHARACTERISTICS

Clean, heavy-bodied, enhanced sweetness and flavour clarity

ICED BREW

Affectionately known as the “Japanese Iced Method”, iced brew entails the brewing of specially selected coffee directly onto ice. The result is a chilled coffee that is smooth, refreshing and bursting with aromatics & flavours.
