SIGNATURE COCKTAILS

The Alkaffs were a wealthy and prominent family of merchants and property developers who owned holiday houses in Singapore, including The Alkaff Mansion. As they were traders in spices, coffee and sugar, this inspired the beginning of our concoctions with the use of our in-house Alkaff Blend coffee with a cinnamon aroma.

Throughout the 1920s, The Alkaff Mansion with its vast and open courtyards, hosted many high society parties and press conferences with people of various races and social classes. Such significant events and celebrations inspired a glitter and sparkling cocktail with an aromatic mint blending with local flavours of calamansi and sour plum.

ry (Hordeum vulgare), a member of the family, is a major cereal grain grown in temperate climates globally. It was one of the earliest cultivated grains, particularly in Asia as early as 10,000 years ago. Globally, production of barley is used as animal feed, while 30% as a source of fermentable material for beer and certain distilled beverages, and as a component of various food products. It is used in soups and stews, in barley bread in various cultures.

Apart from The Alkaff Mansion, the family had owned multiple properties across the island including the Alkaff Lake Gardens. This Japanese-styled garden was the first of its kind to be built in Singapore and became a place of attraction with its landscaped paths. With miso being a key Japanese ingredient, this was incorporated with a blend of Midori Melon for that umami taste.

Since the construction of the mansion, it has been a gathering place for notable society members. From a weekend house filled with leisure parties to official state events and conferences, and further redevelopment into various European restaurants. A place of unity and rich history which inspired the blend of French and Spanish-based alcohol with condiments that compliment and enhances its taste.

Raffles Mansion is an early 19th-century colonial bungalow located within the Telok Blangah Hill Park in Singapore. The hill was originally called Mt Washington, and was part of a sprawling land estate owned by a British family. In 1819, Sir Stamford Raffles and his associates purchased the land. The bungalow was built by the family which was abandoned in 1919. The property was acquired by the government.
